Art Focus: Dali

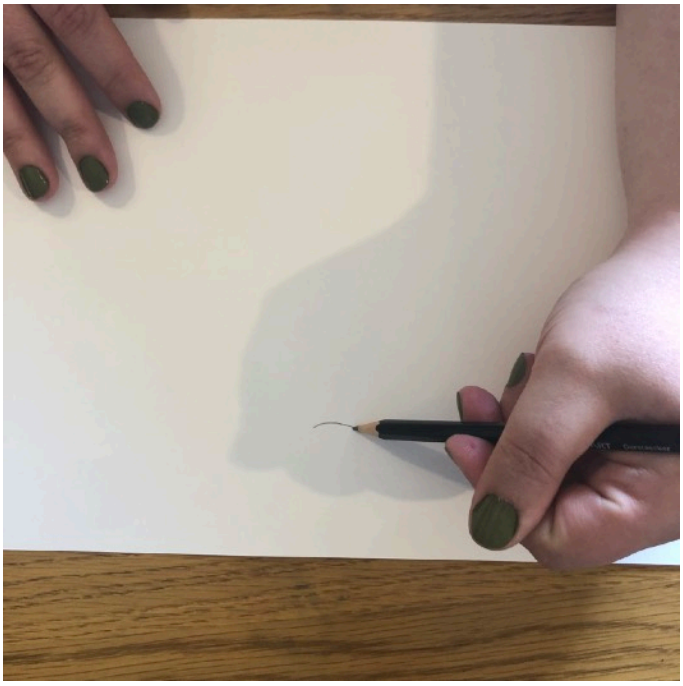

Taking inspiration from Dali - why not create your own “Surreal” imagery. Salvador Dali was a Spanish Artist born in 1904 and lived till 1989, he still is a very famous Surrealist painter.

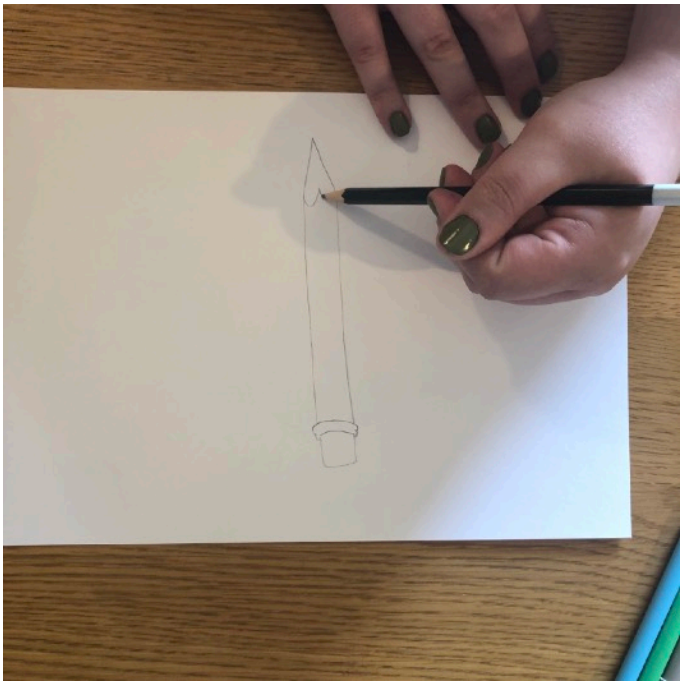

Tools and Materials:

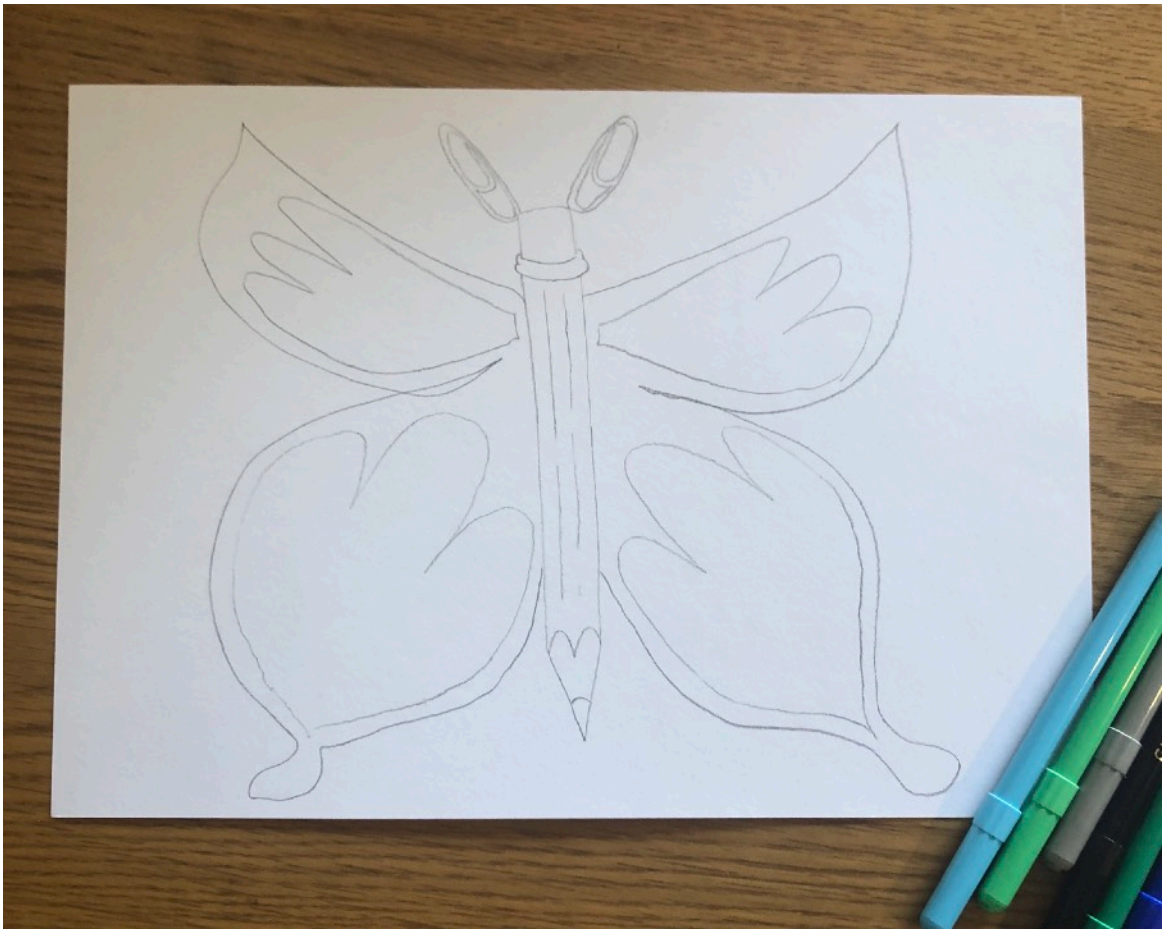

- Paper
- Pencil
- Felt Tips

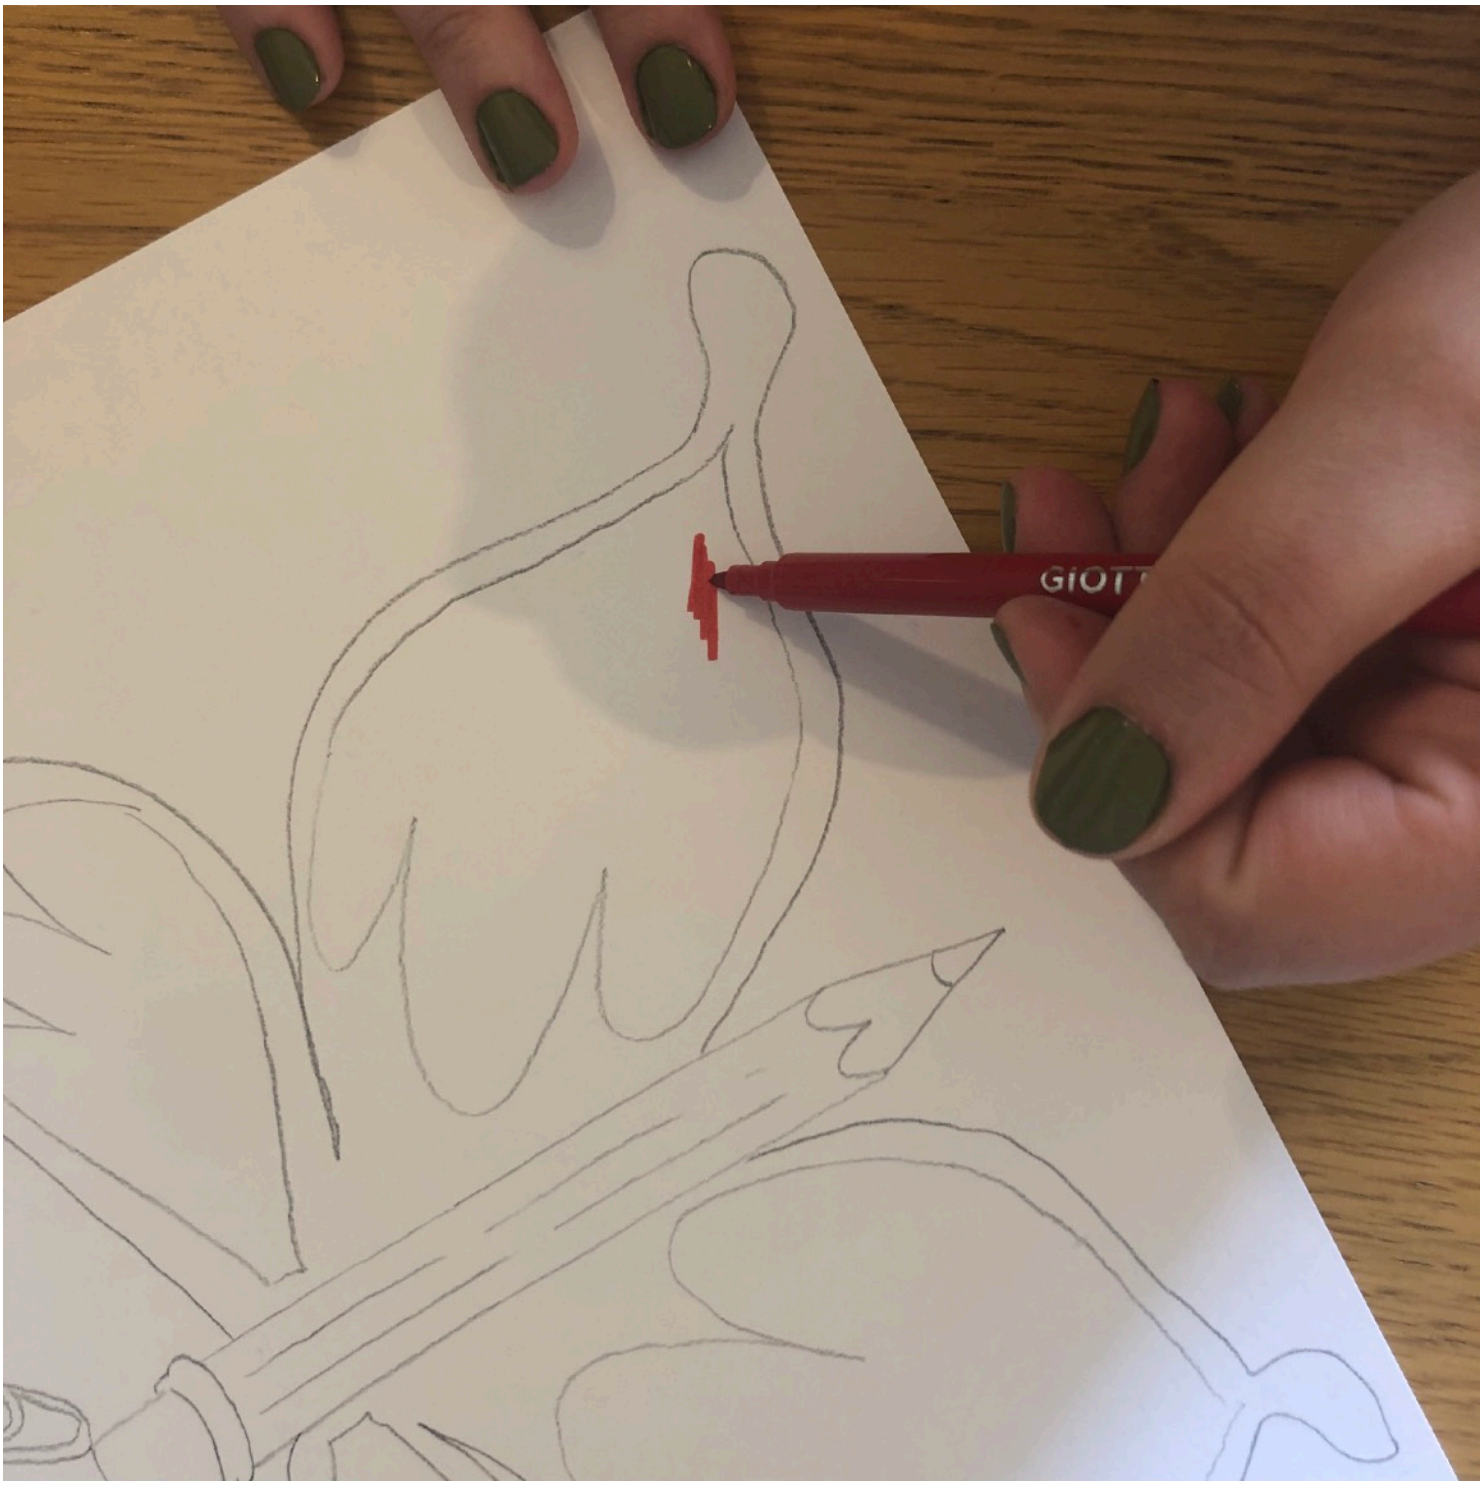

So with Surrealism - things are often not what they seem - surrealism literally means above realism, so things that don’t exist can be mixed together. With that in mind we thought it would be fun to create a pencil butterfly with paper clip antennae, mixing real things that don’t exist as a form. First of all sketch out what it is you want to create!

Once you are happy with your creation you can think about colouring it in - you could even think about different patterns - like a leopard print elephant!

There you have it your very own Dali inspired work!

Here are some others we made to inspire you!
