Bee Bunting

Celebrating our pollinating friends why not create some “bee-utiful” bunting to brighten up your home and bring the outdoors indoors

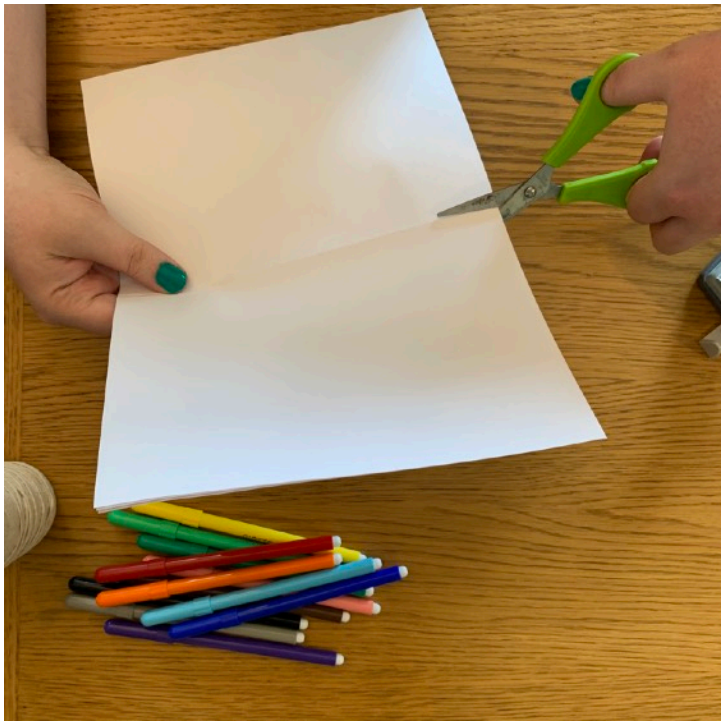

Tools and Materials:

- A4 Paper 3 sheets
- Felt Tips
- String
- Scissors
- Hole Punch (if you have one)

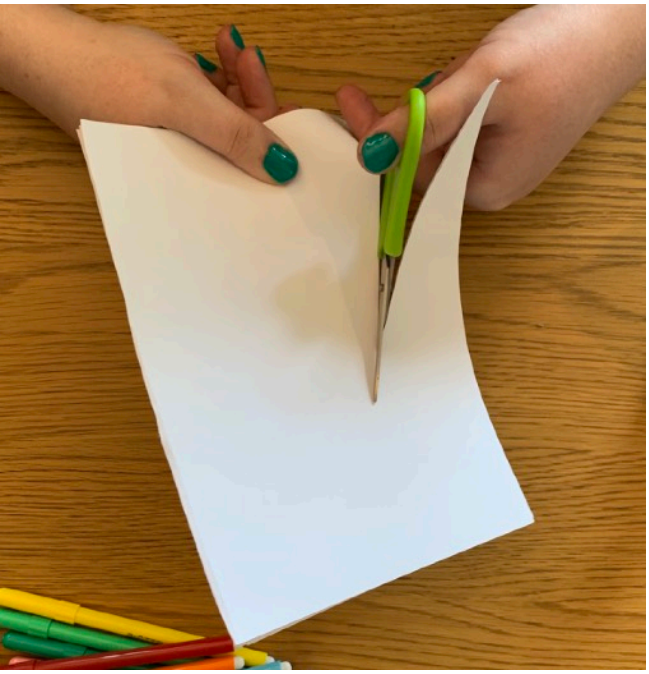

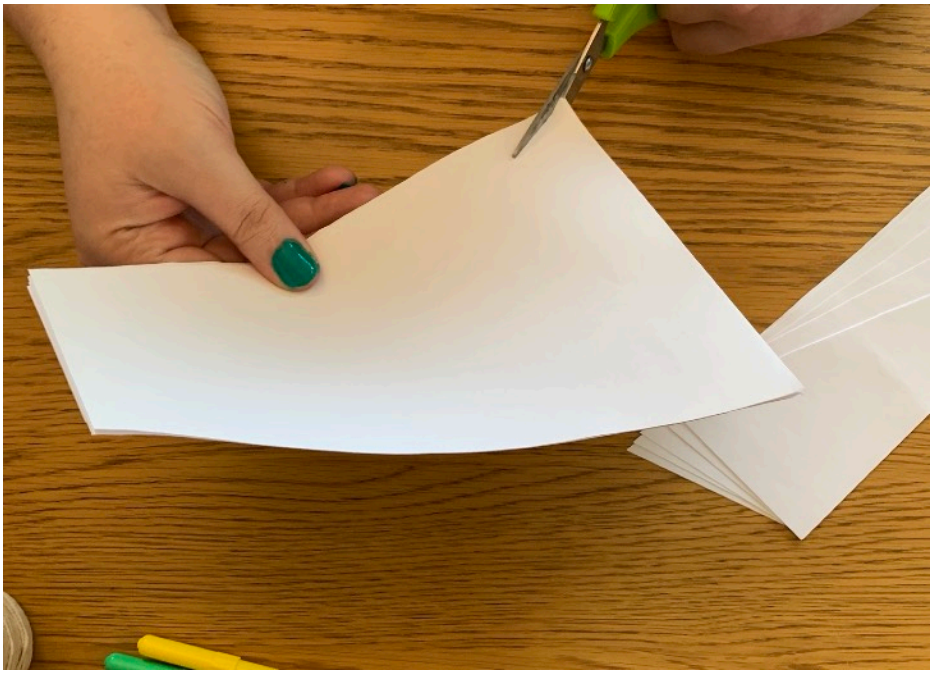

To start take a sheet of paper and fold it in half like a card so you can follow the line to cut it like so - this is to create 6 smaller pieces of paper. You can have more triangles if you like but 6 is good number as a minimum.

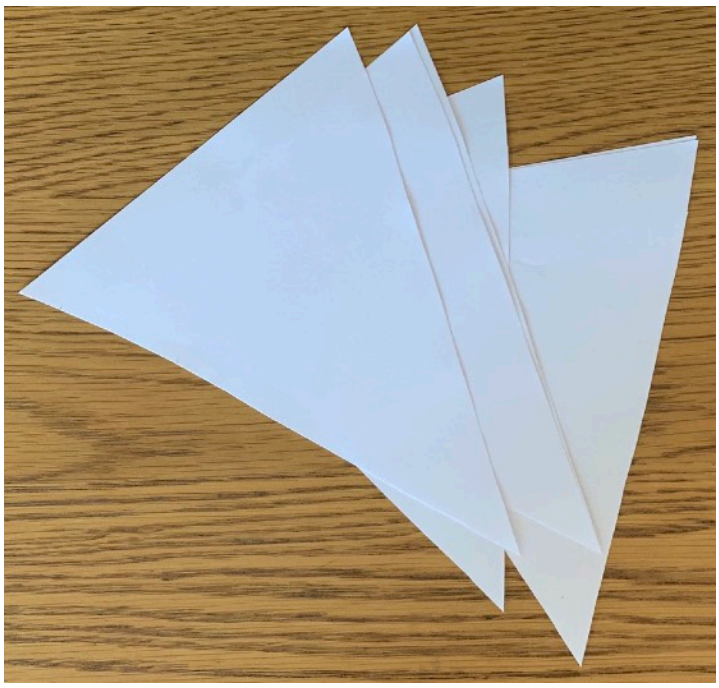

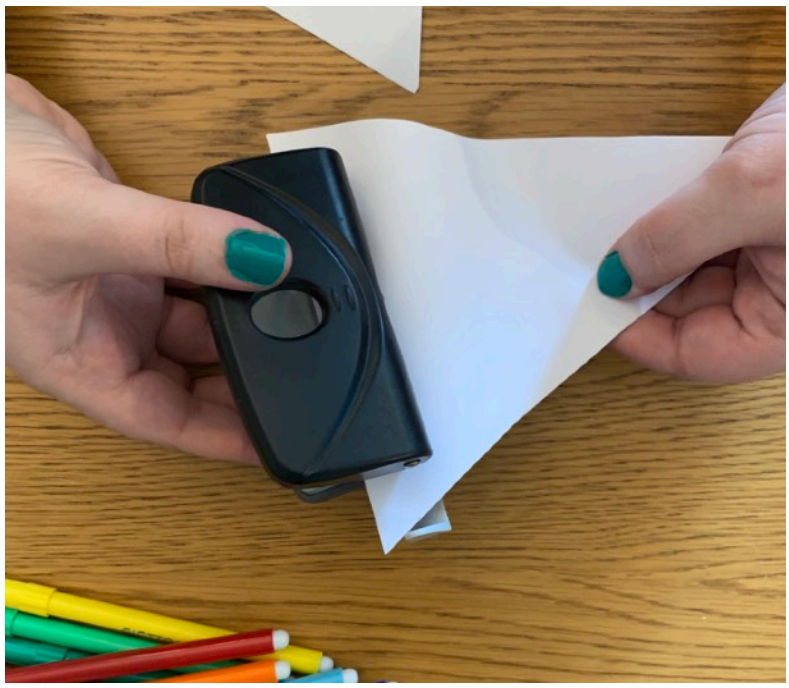

Once you have the paper ready you can create your triangles - we didn't use a ruler you can, you want to create an "Isoceles" triangle which means 2 sides are equal lengths. If you cut from the outer edge towards the middle of the other side this should help!

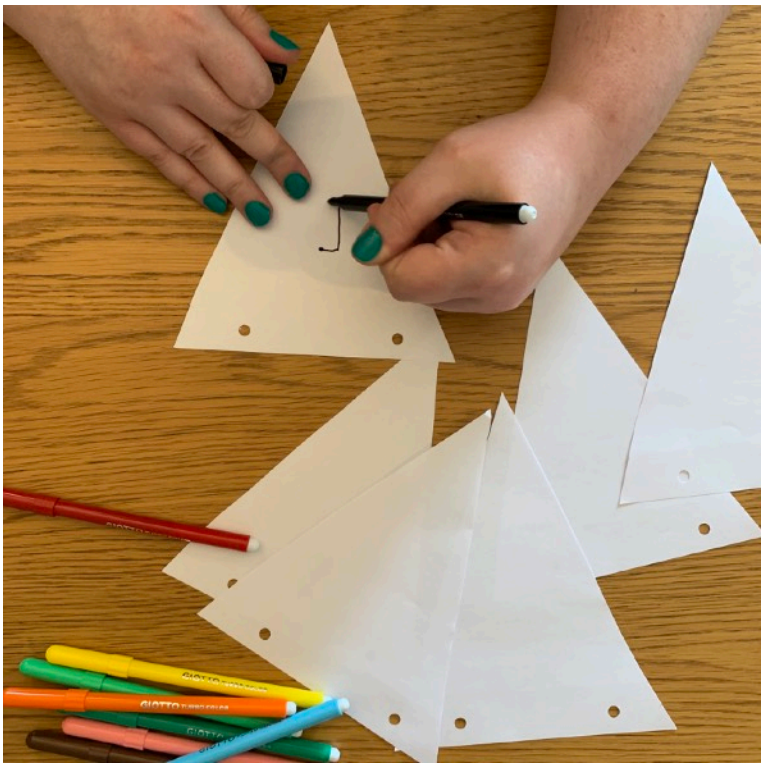

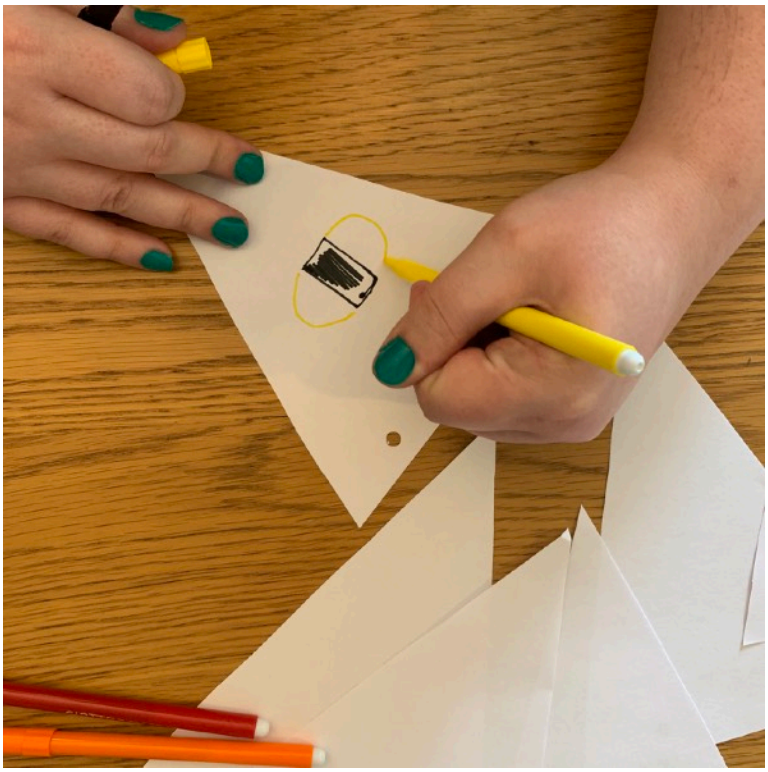

You should end up with 6 triangles like this which you can then hole punch at the short side to thread later. If you don't have a hole punch you can cut small holes out instead

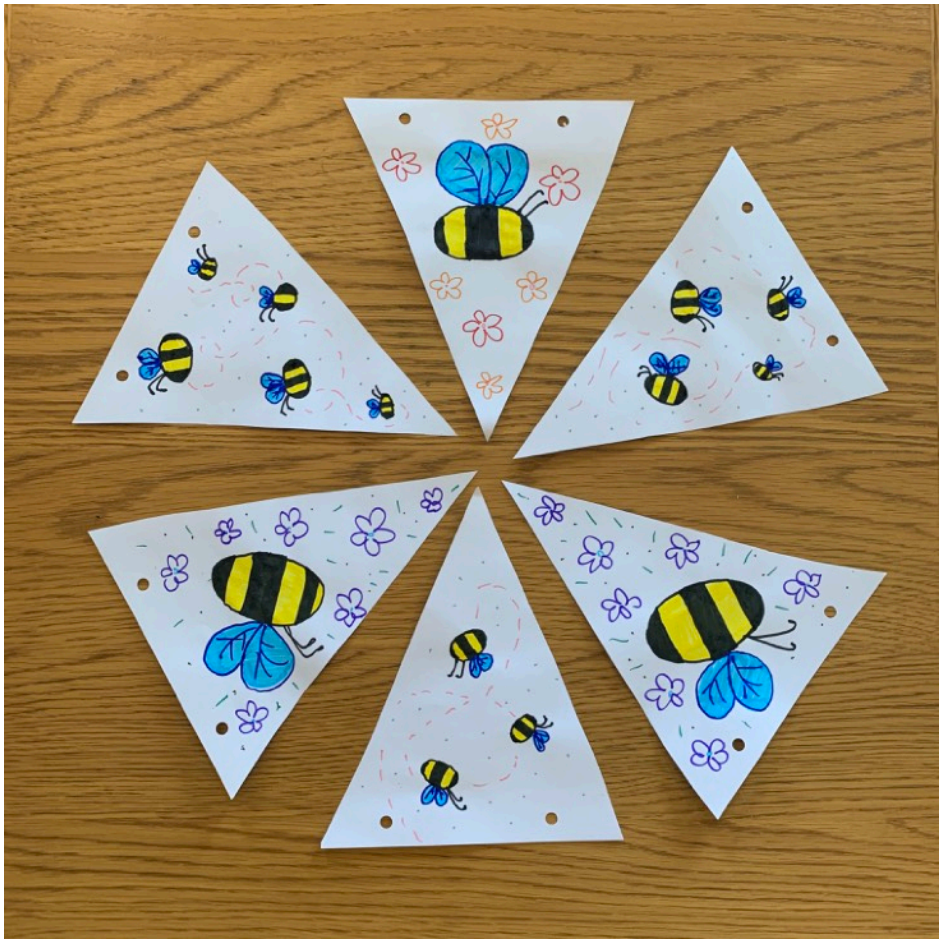

Now to decorate! "Bee Bunting" isn't really complete without some bees - you can of course add in other things like flowers but think about what kind of bee you want to draw, there are over 16,000 species of known bees!

They can be all different or you could focus on a pattern to alternate it is completely up to you!

Once you are happy with your drawings you can thread them together like so

There you have it your very own “Bee Bunting”!

Here is another we made to inspire you!
