Father's Day Rosette

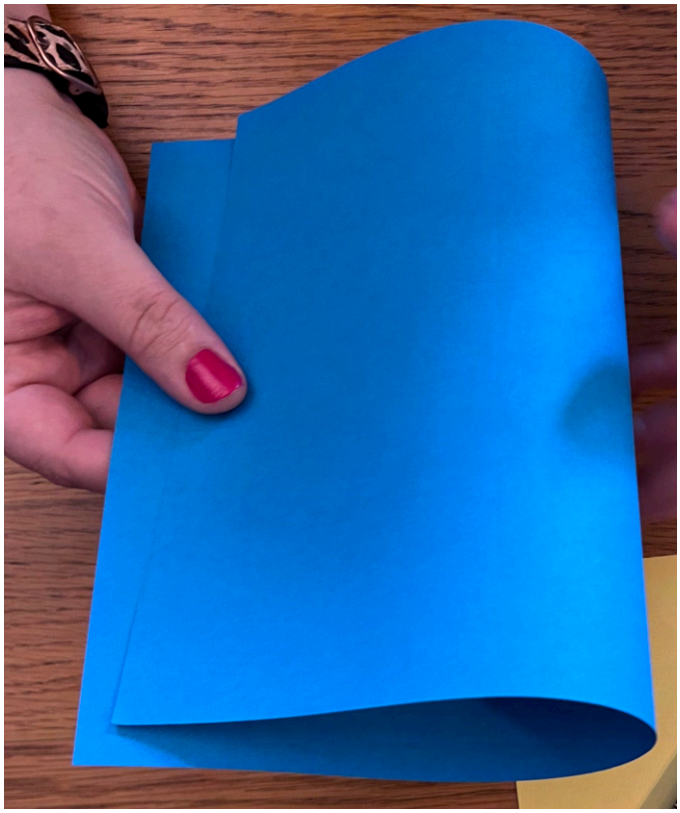

Celebrating Father's Day or any other occasion where you might want to create a "prize" for whoever you are giving it to - this is a fun and simple craft to make a rosette!

Tools and Materials:

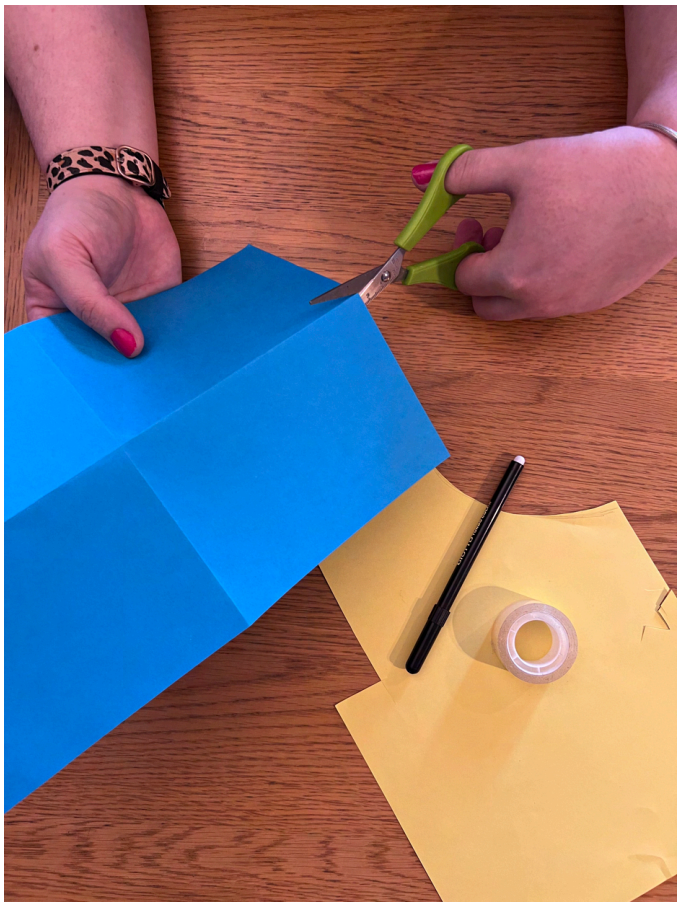

- Coloured Paper
- Felt Tip
- Sellotape
- Scissors

To make the rosette you need a whole piece of paper - we used A4 for this which we folded in half then half again to create quarters. Once you have done that then cut them up

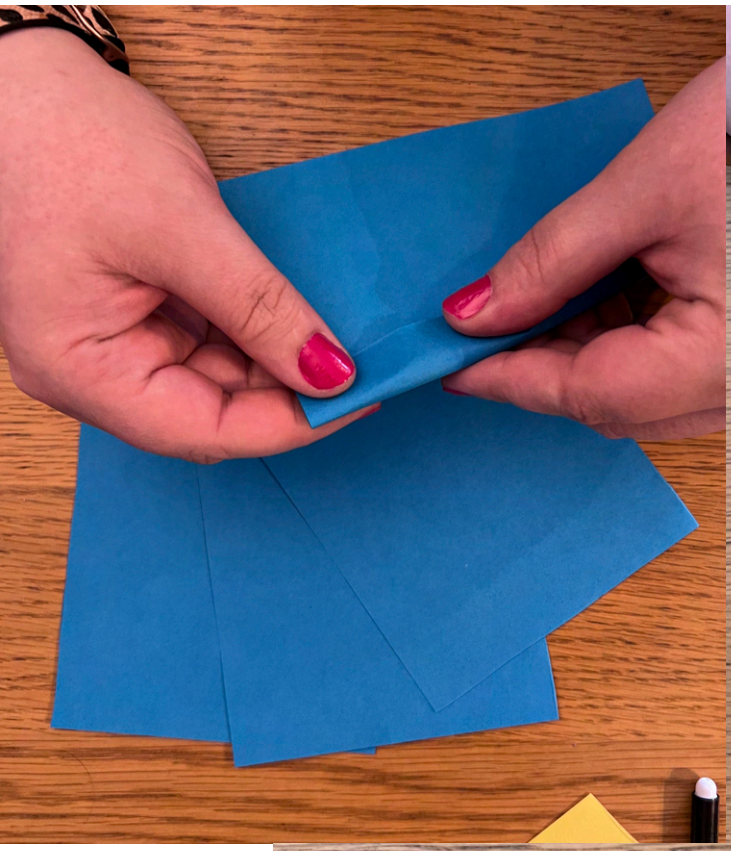

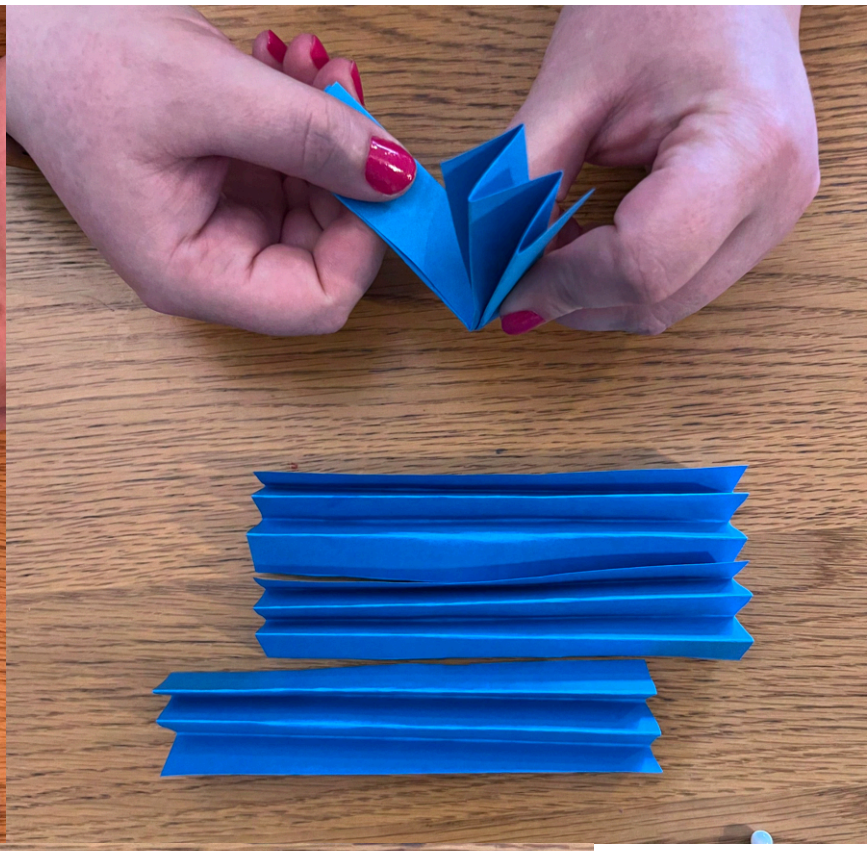

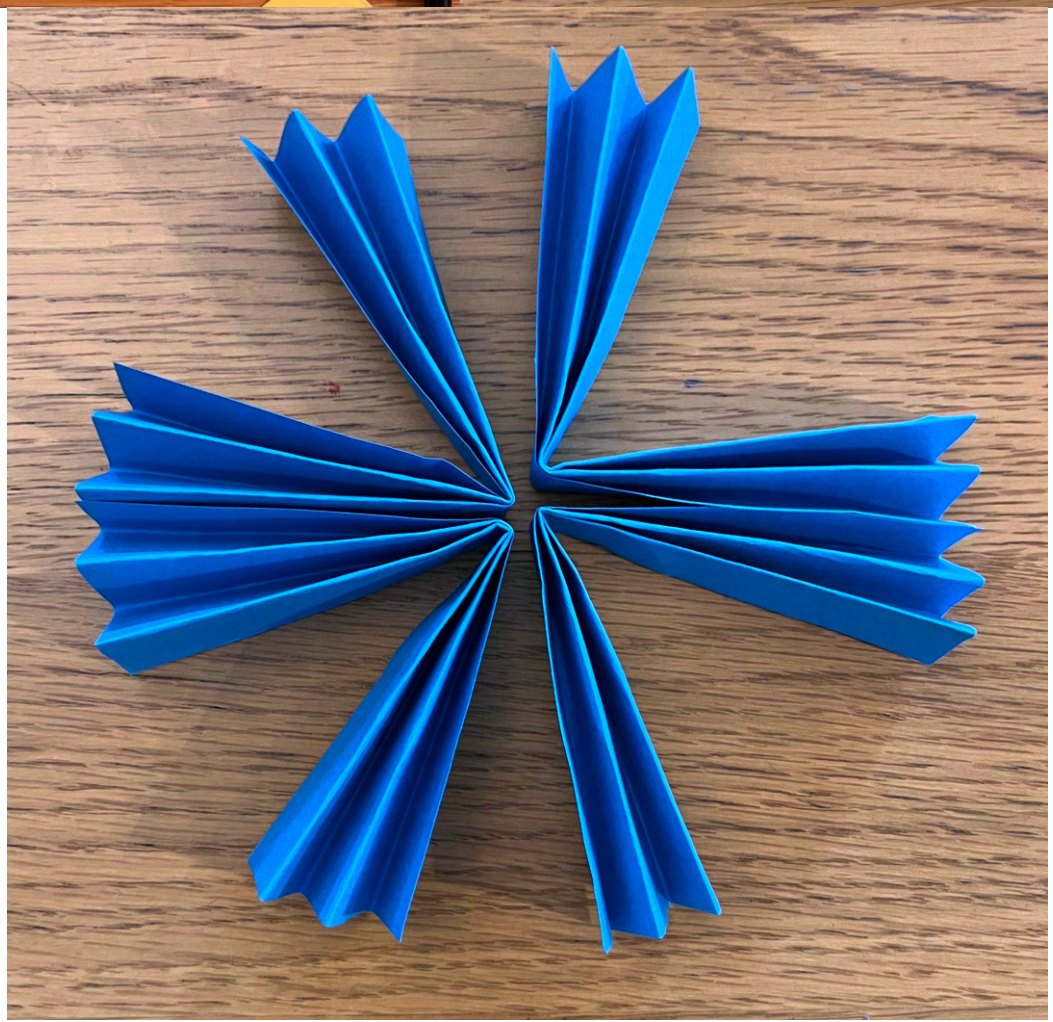

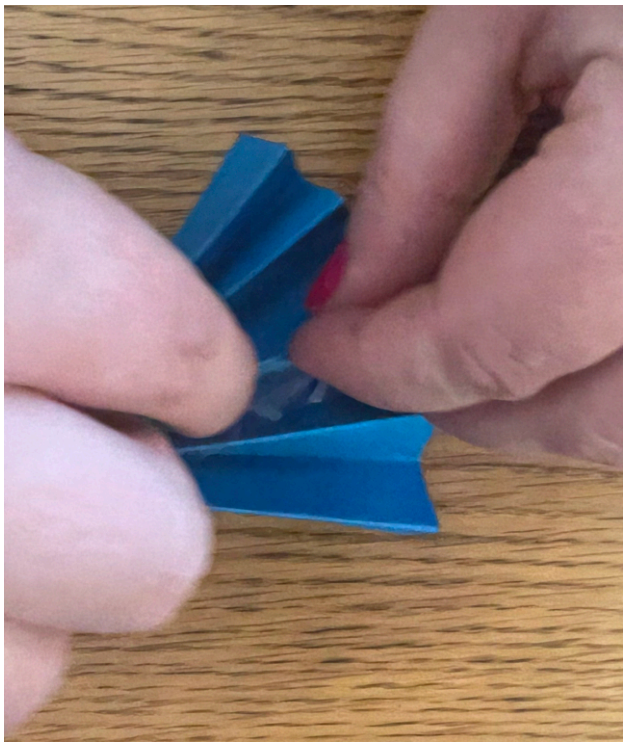

Start folding each quarter like a fan alternating the folds so it zigzags like so, when you've done all 4 then fold them in half

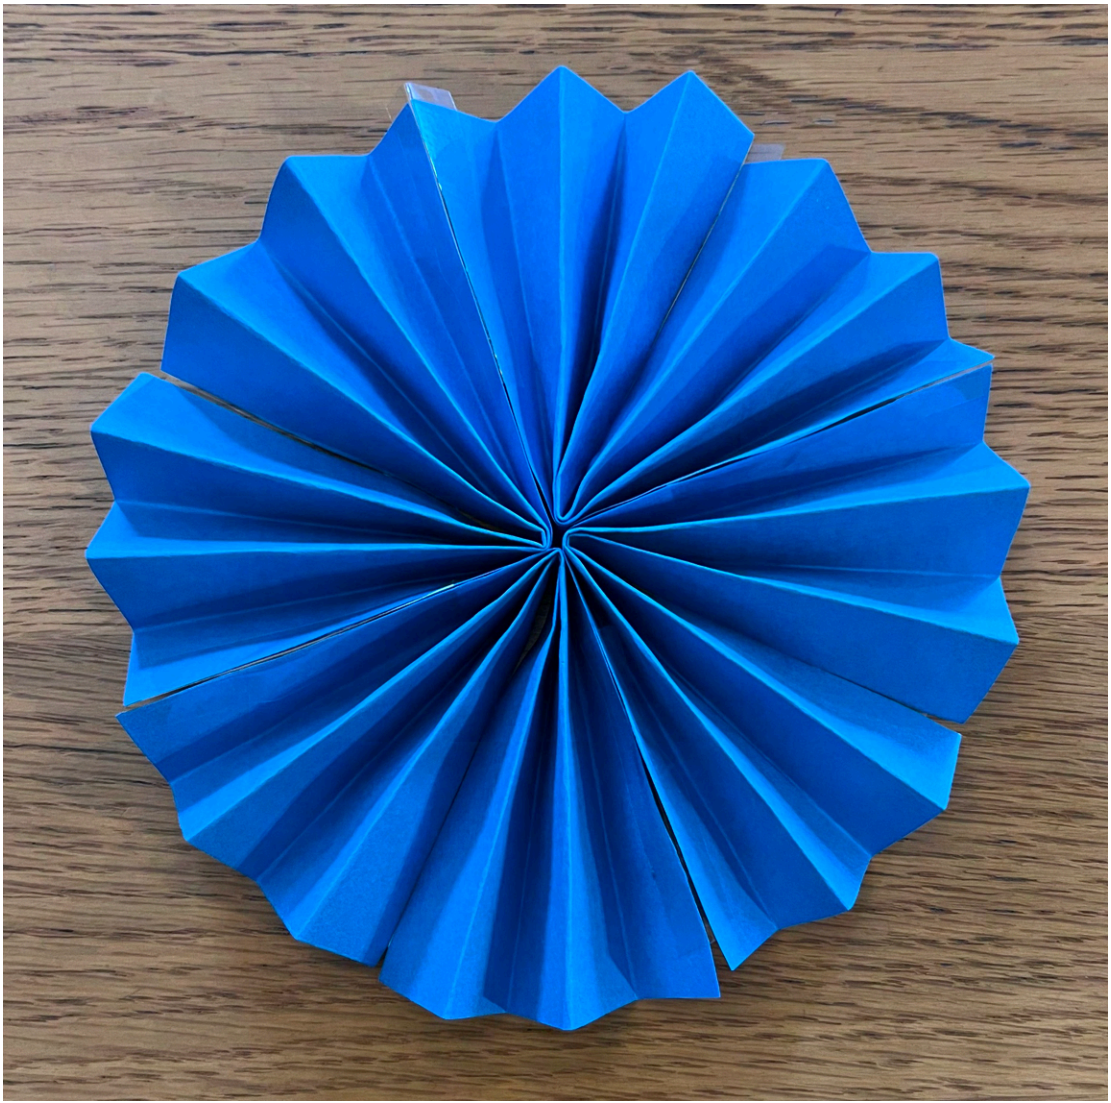

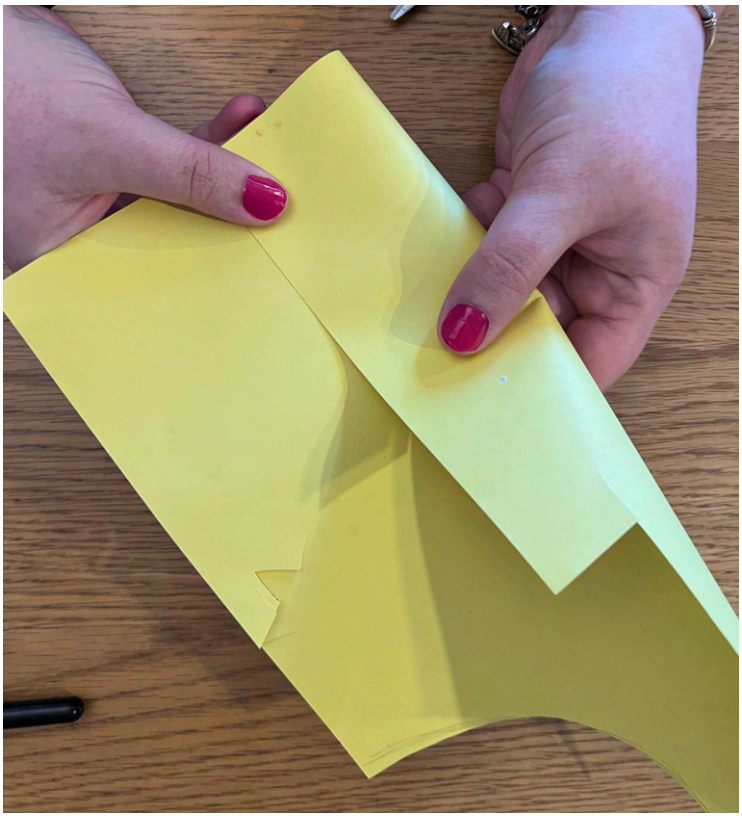

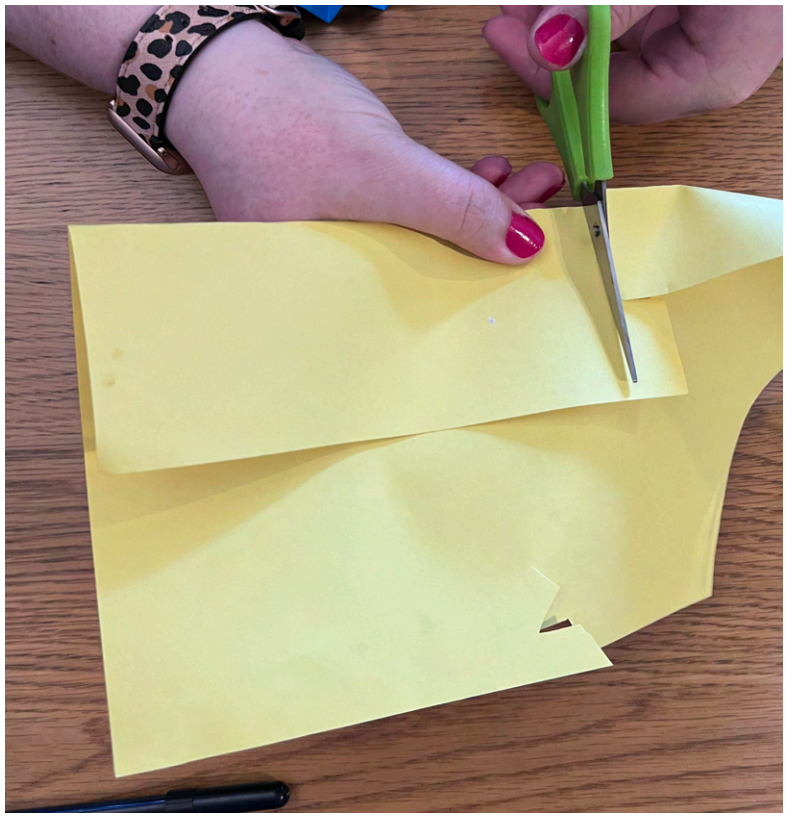

To create the circle you need to tape the inside of the fold together on each one, and then stick them to each other. Use the sellotape to fix them together like so

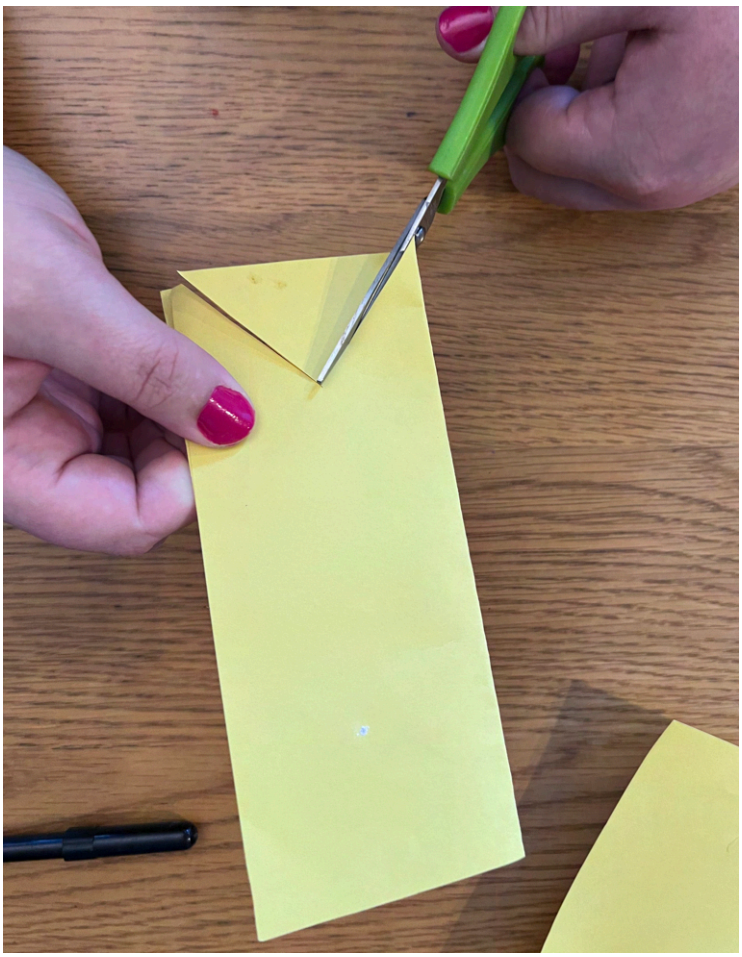

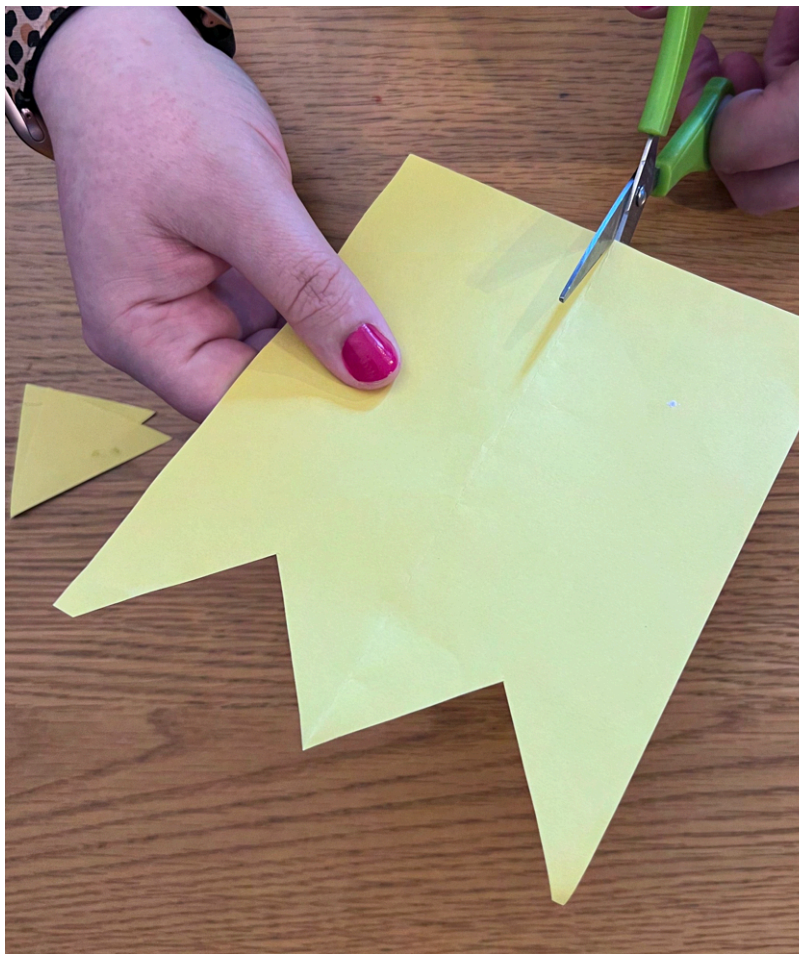

With the yellow paper we can create the ribbons that come out the bottom, rectangles with a triangle cut out from the bottom to make it look ribbon like. We folded the paper in half to get 2 the same size and shape

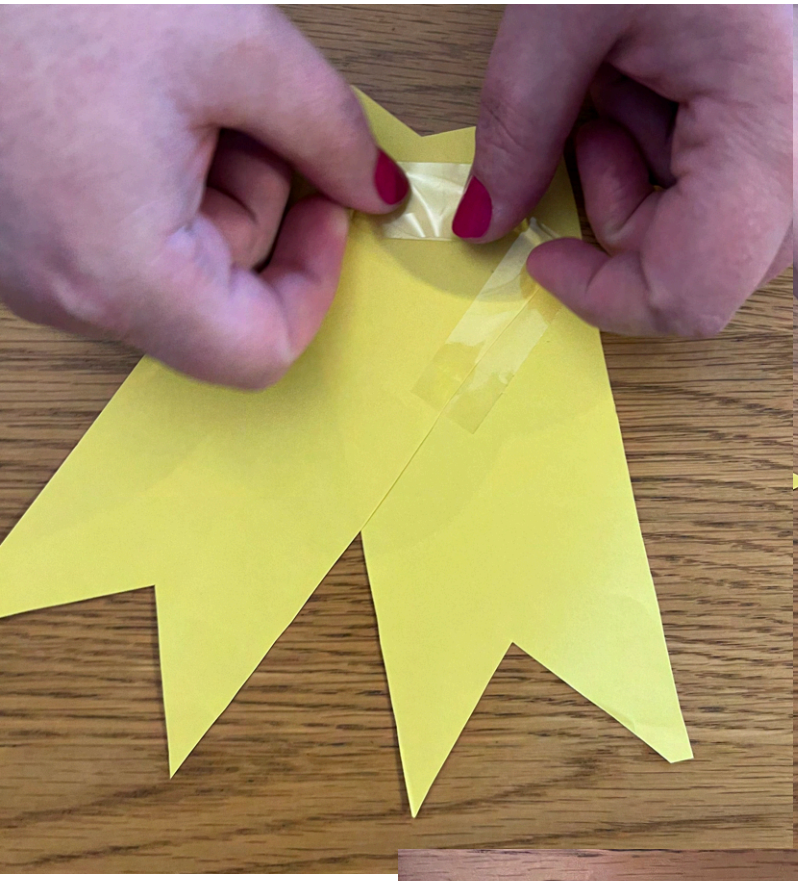

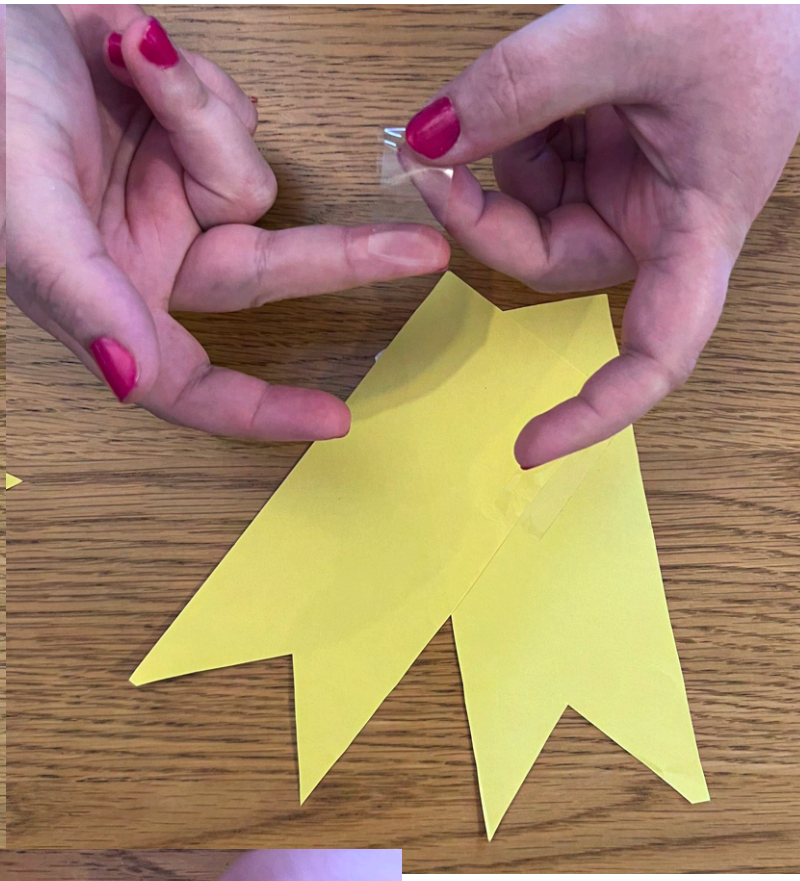

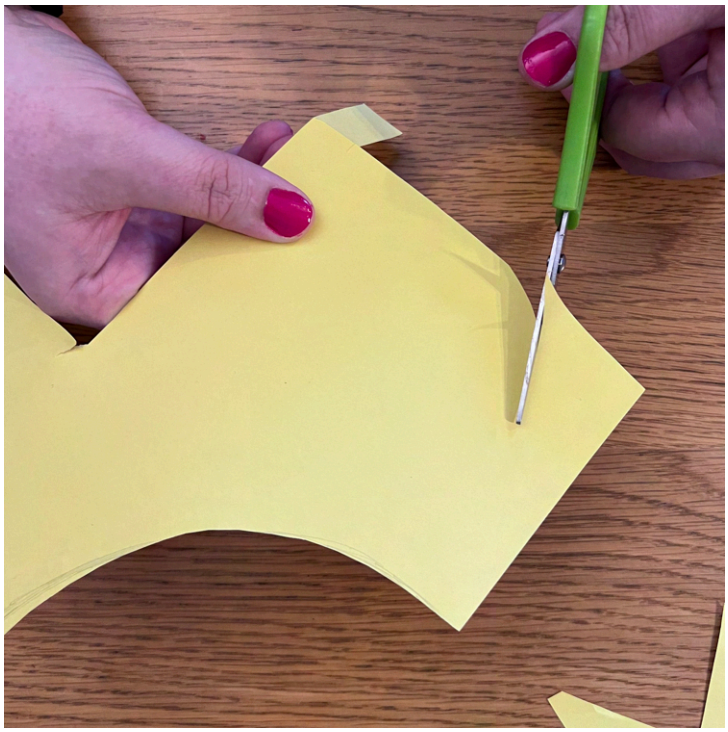

Once you have cut them apart lie them at right angles like so and tape them together on both sides to make it more secure. You can add a tape loop in between if you like but you also need one on the front to add the fan rosette to

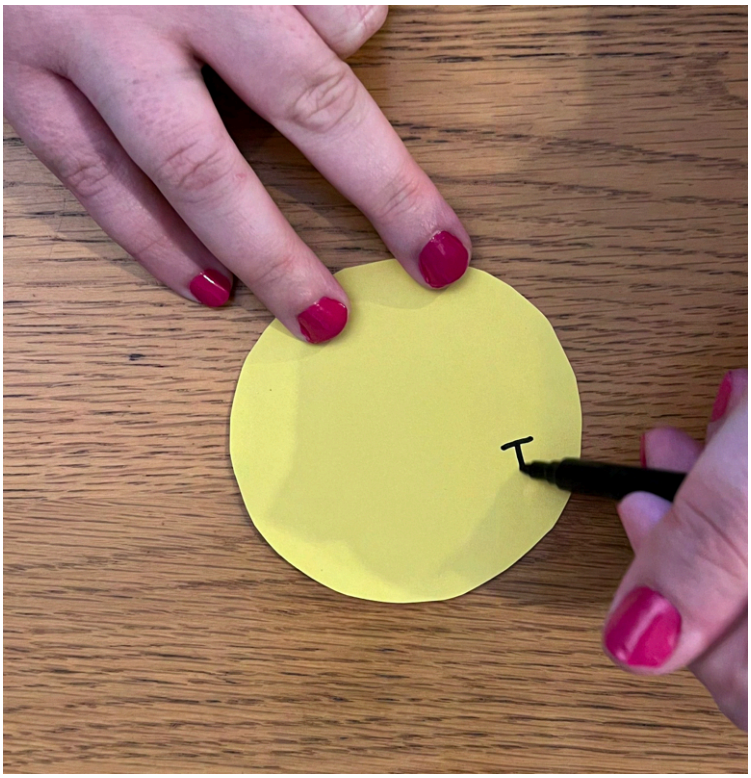

For the finishing touch create a circle for the middle to add your message to, draw with felt tip or cut it out by sight, add your message and using a tape loop stick in the middle

There you have it your very own “Father’s Day Rosette”!

Here is another we made to inspire you!
