Masks of the World

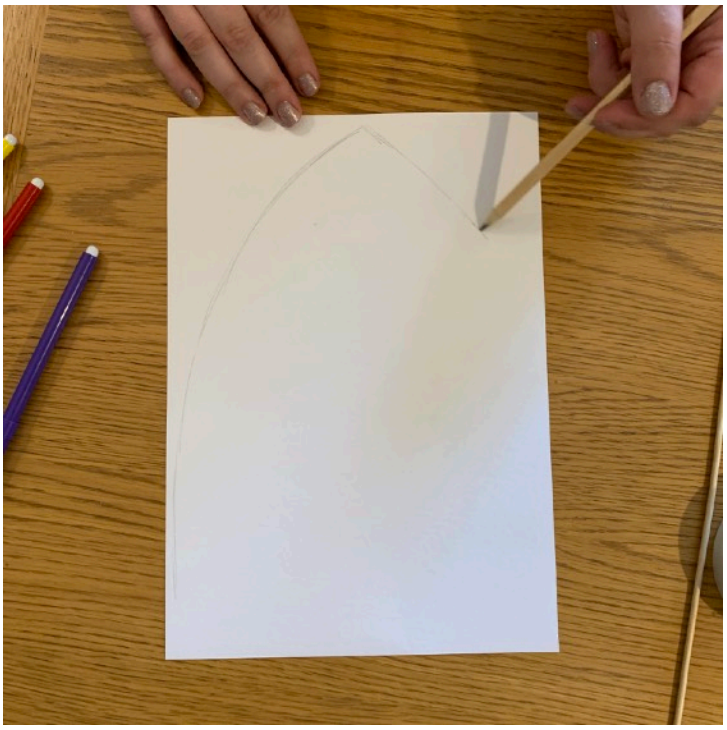

Taking inspiration from masks of the World - why not create you own! You can look at masks from Africa, Indonesia, Mexico - anywhere in the World really!

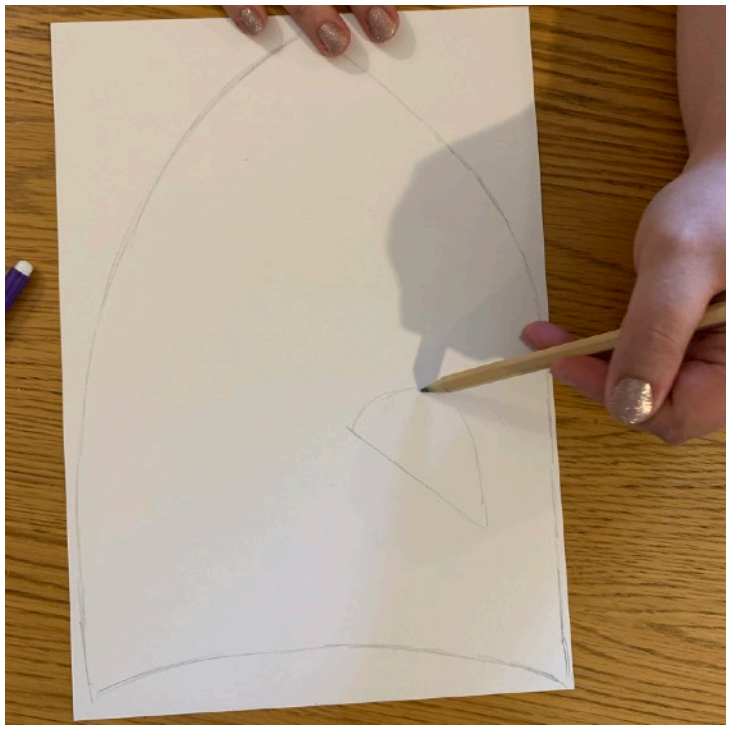

Tools and Materials:

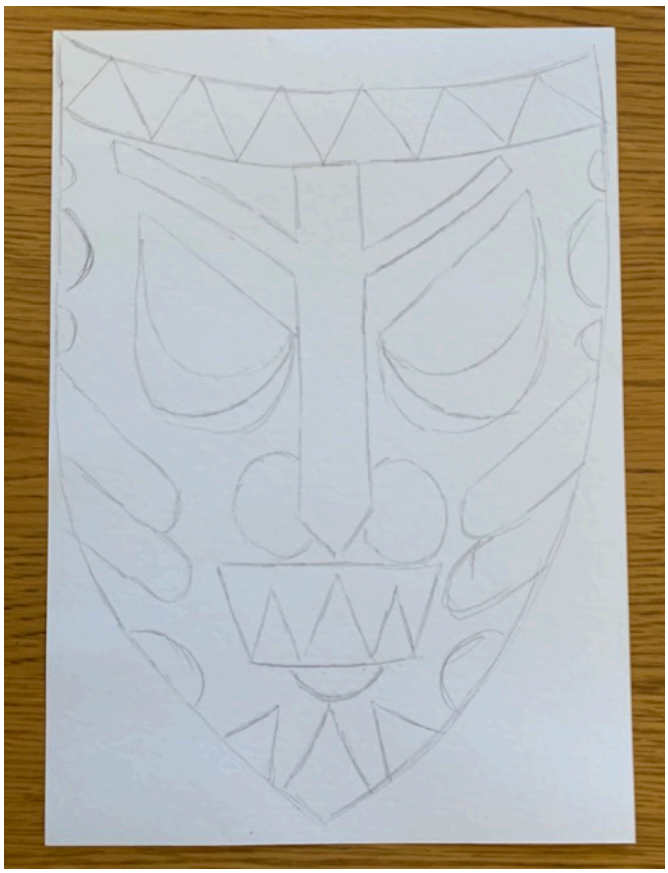

- Paper
- Pencil
- Felt Tips
- Scissors
- Sellotape
- Wooden Skewer

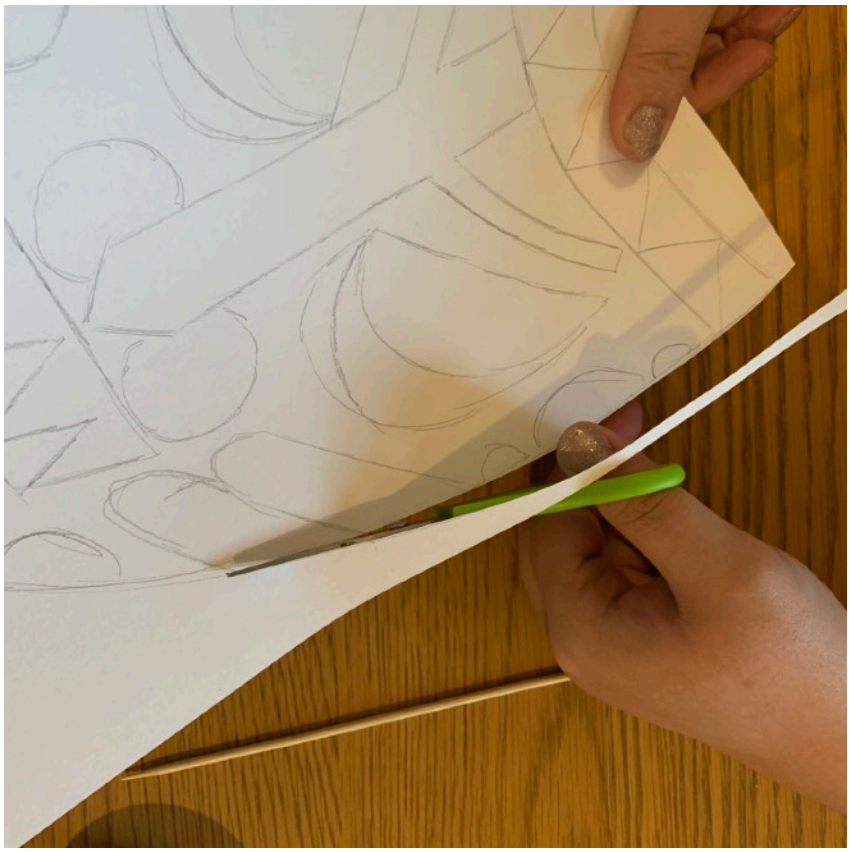

First of all what kind of mask inspires you? What masks can you find on the internet? We thought it would be fun to take inspiration from African masks and to create our own one with elements from different designs we have seen - first of all what shape do you want you mask to be? We chose a shield shape - make sure it is bigger than your face if you want to use it!

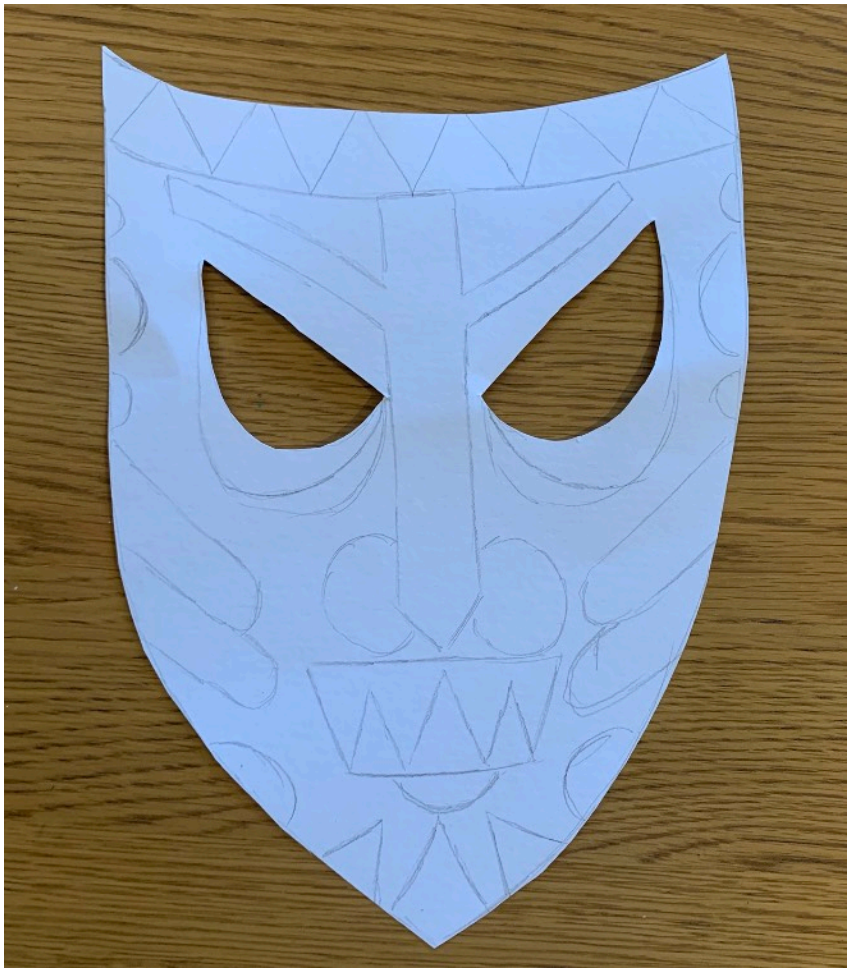

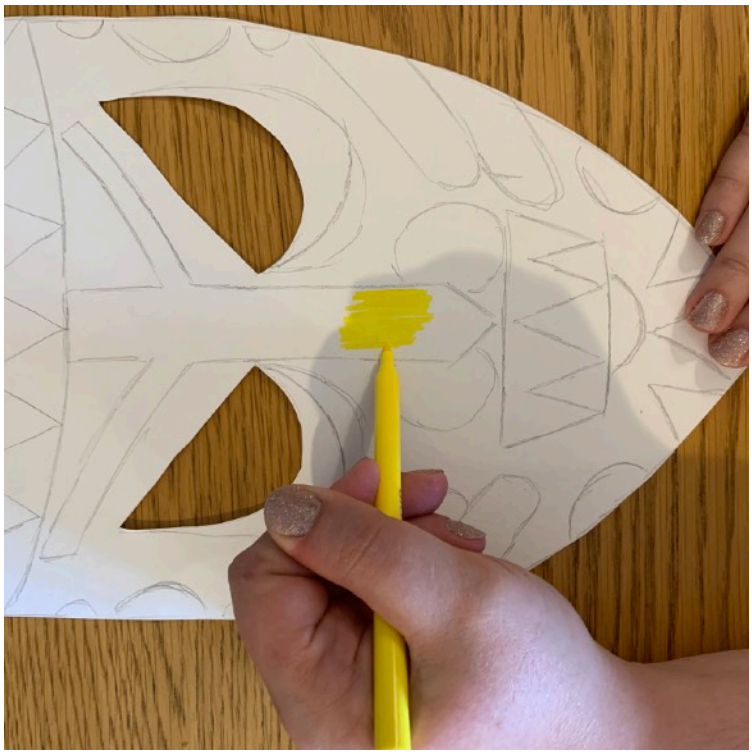

Once you are happy with the drawing - making sure the eyes are where you eyes are so you can see out you can start to cut it out!

Now the best bit - adding the colour!

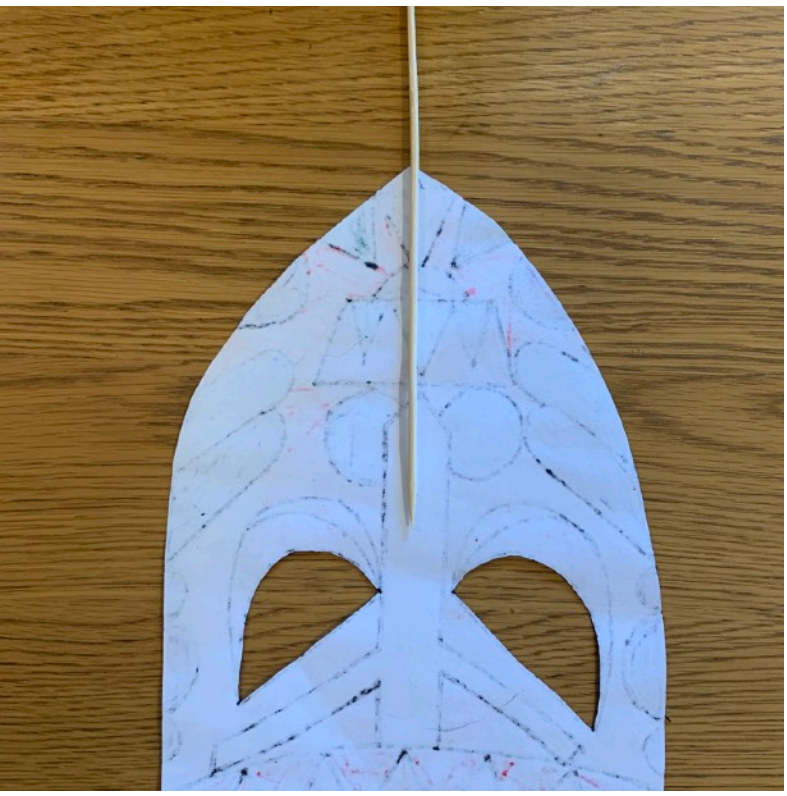

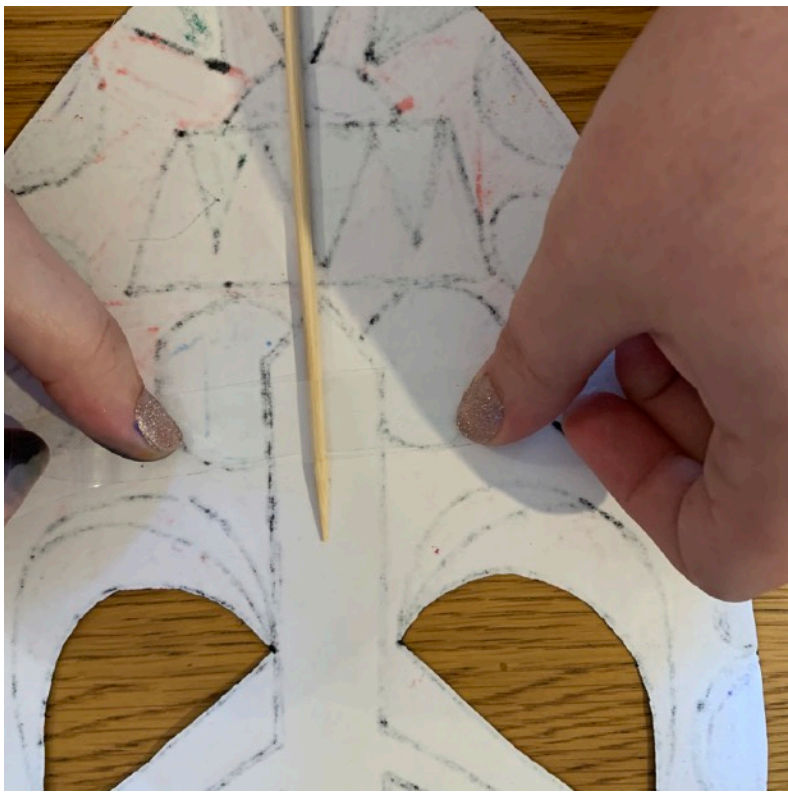

Once you are happy with the colouring in you can outline it to really make it stand out

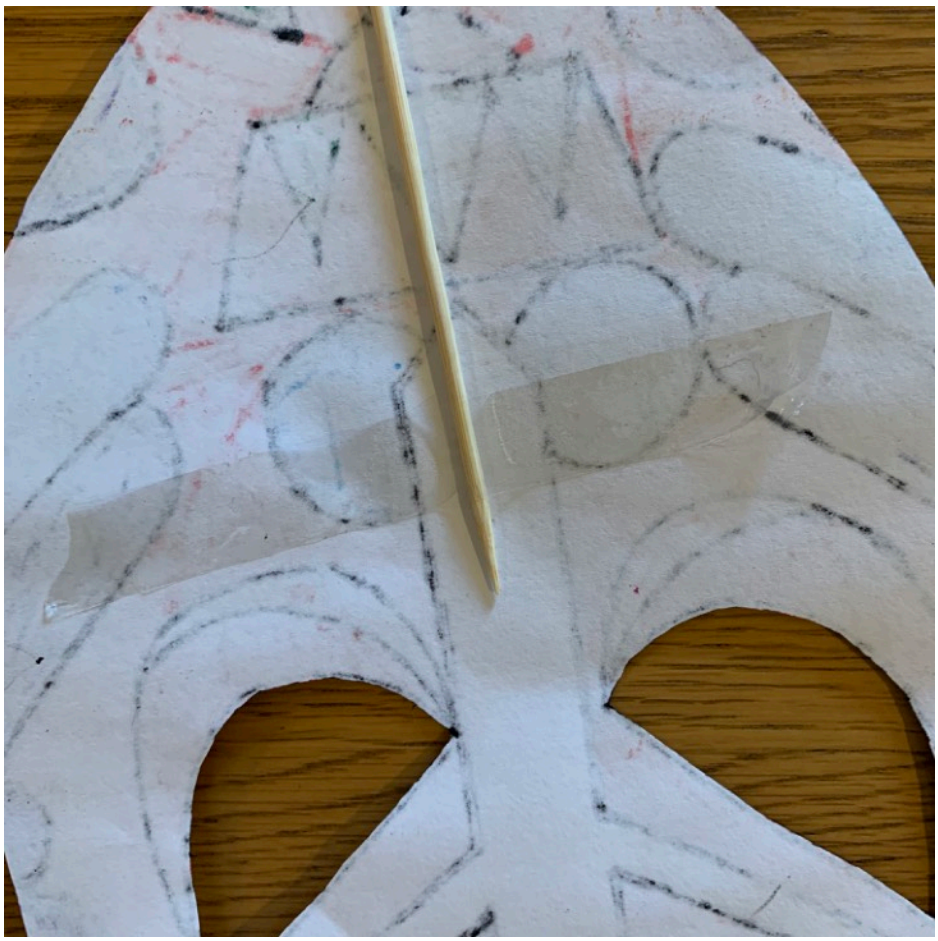

Once you have finished outlining it flip it over so you have the back and you can attach the wooden skewer - it is safer to tape the pointy end behind the mask rather than holding that end - like so

There you have it your very own “Mask of the World”
