

Archaeology of Self

Another way of creating portraiture is using objects that mean a lot to you to represent you - like a favourite toy or something that was given to you for example.

Tools and Materials:

- Paper
- Pencil
- Paintbrushes
- Watercolour
- Water
- Objects that represent you!

This is a modern take on traditional still life - arrange your items how you would like them to look like so

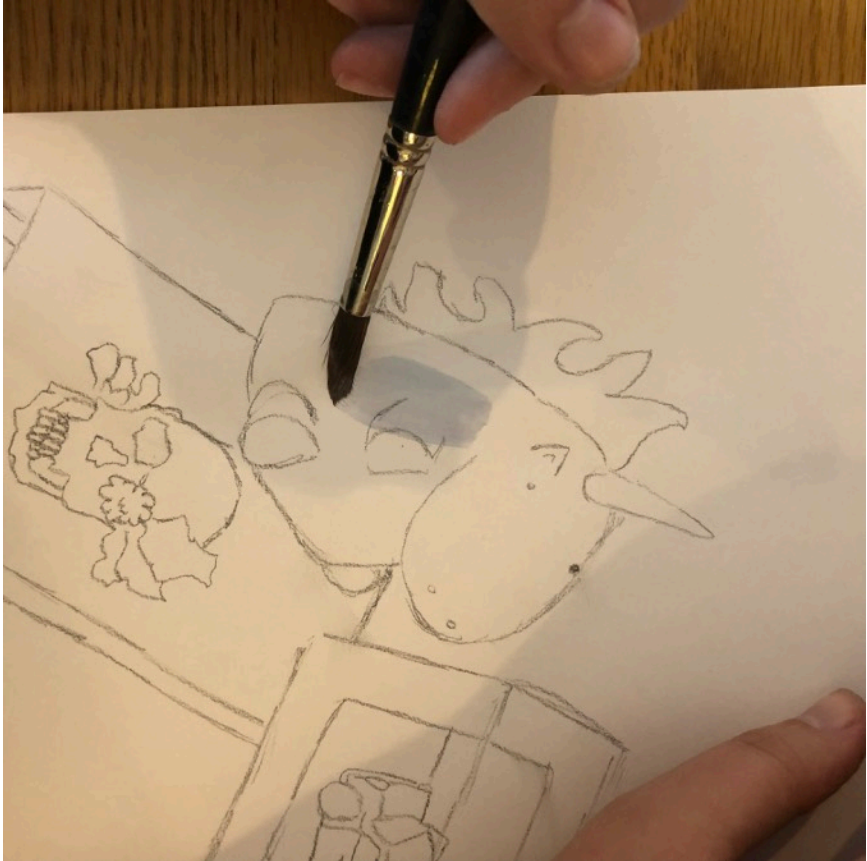

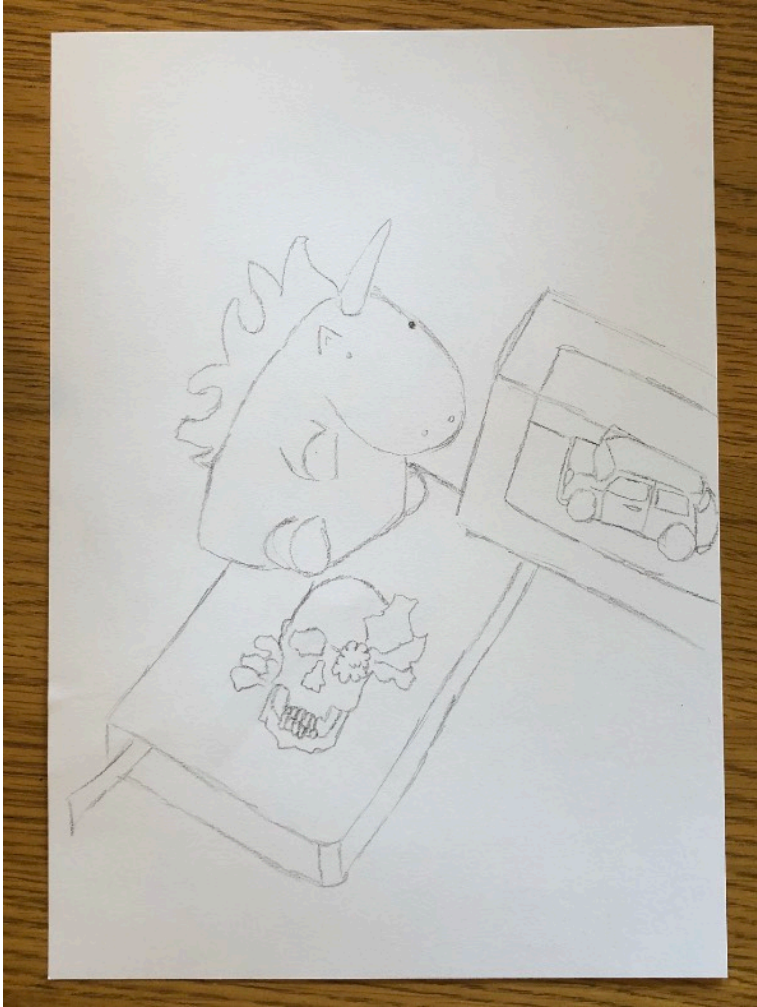

Then you can start sketching with a pencil to figure where you want the image on your paper

When you are happy with your drawing you can then start to paint it!

There you have it your own "Archaeology of Self"

Here is another we created to inspire you!
