Snow Globe

This is a fun and glitter-filled way to capture some winter magic indoors!

Tools and Materials:

- Empty clean Glass Jar
- Scissors
- Glitter
- Glue Gun (you might be able to use superglue but get an adult to do it!)
- Modelling Plasticine

The most important bit is - what are you going to make?
We thought a stripy candle would look nice, so roll out your plasticine - it is easier to use when you have rolled it a bit as it takes the heat from your hands so it becomes more bendy and smoother than when you started. Don't forget to measure your jar to figure out how wide and long you can make your model - it has to be able to go in the jar easily!

To make our candle we chose red and white to get a striped effect you can twist them together - make sure you push the 2 colours firmly together because you don't want your model falling apart when you shake your snow globe!

Once you are happy with the base you can add some details such as holly leaves and the flame!

And there you have your candle - you need to prepare your lid to stick the model to - we do this by scratching the surface of the glass jar lid with scissors - it makes it easier to stick to otherwise the glue can fall off we have found!

If you do have a glue gun it is best if you get an adult to help you with this as they are very hot and you could easily hurt yourself - add a 10p size of glue in the middle then press your model in to it - because the glue is hot some of your model will melt in to the glue, this is normal so don't worry about it!

Once you are happy with your model you can fill up your jar with water - don't forget your model will take up space in the jar so don't fill the water to the very top leave a cm or so to fit your model in

Then the best bit - add the glitter!!

Put the lid with your model on into the jar and screw as tight as you can - then to keep the water in take some of your leftover plasticine and put it around the lip of the jar

And there you have it your own Snow Globe!
