

Valentine's Day Bunting

Getting into the spirit of Valentine's, "Galentine's" or "Palentine's" why not create this sweet heart filled bunting with the message or slogan of your choice to adorn the house or gift to a loved one - family or friends

Tools and Materials:

- Coloured Paper
- Sellotape
- String
- Scissors
- Felt Tips

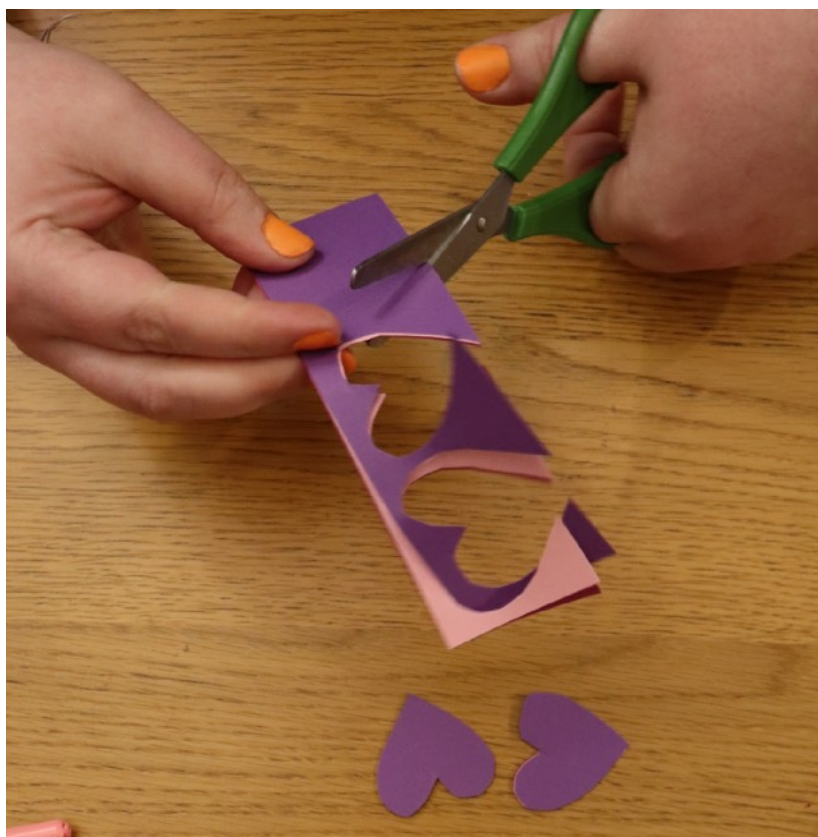

First take your white paper and fold it roughly into 4 sections like so (fold in half and half again). You can always fold it less times and use more white paper depending on what it is you want to say. We wanted to write “Happy Valentines” which is 15 letters so cut out 4 circles along the paper creating 16 in total. You can use one cut out as a template for the rest to help have uniform sizes

Now to create the heart spacers, we chose 3 different colour to make hearts from - light pink, fuchsia/dark pink and a mid purple if you line them up to cute rectangles the same size to cut your hearts from like so

Because we are doing 2 words we need 3 sets of spacers each for which we are using 3 hearts so need a total of 9U

Using the felt tips we alternated hearts to write our letters within and then added them in black so they stand out against all the other colours

Once you are happy with your letters and spacers then you can lay them out. As you are putting them face down make sure you put them the right way to be read when it is face up - it might be easiest placing your letters upside down so the words are still going forwards. Secure with sellotape

There you have it your very own “Valentine’s Day Bunting”!
